ABROAD SPECTRUM

THE LURE OF AN INTERNATIONAL DEGREE, THE PREFERRED DESTINATIONS AND DISCIPLINES AND THE COST OF THAT ASPIRATION

WHY STUDENTS ARE GOING ABROAD FOR HIGHER STUDIES

- Pent-up demand after Covid
- Introduction of CUET; increasing competition at home
- Better-designed, flexible curriculums; emphasis on experiential rather than textbook learning
- Sprawling campuses, world-class facilities and faculty, fantastic opportunities for research
- Exposure to foreign cultures, languages and people, integrating students into a global community
- Better prospects for a global career, and a life abroad
- Growing aspirations of parents who want only the best for their children
- Higher disposable incomes, easier education loans, graduate assistance programmes and attractive scholarships and work visa policies
- The desire of foreign universities to attract more foreign students to cross-subsidise local students and bring more diversity in their classrooms

THE TOP 4

Largely English-speaking nations, with a strong Indian diaspora and extensive and excellent universities and programmes not to mention great student-friendly work visa policies, these countries attracted the most number of new students in 2022, per study abroad platform Yocket
