Notes

INTRODUCTION

1. The 2011 tiger census came up with a count of 1706. This is up from 1411 from the 2007 census. It is unclear if the increase is due to better conservation or better counting.
2. The Gayatri Mantra is one of the most popular hymns in the Hindu tradition. It is contained in the Rig Veda and has been translated and interpreted by many scholars. Here is my attempt: 'As you light up the Heavens and the Earth, O Radiant Sun, So light up my Mind and Soul'.

8. It appears that India was not entirely ecologically isolated during its northward drift. John Briggs has found that India still received some new mainland species during the period. The process is not yet entirely understood. 'The biogeographic and tectonic history of India', John Briggs. Journal of Biogeography, 2003.
