5. FROM SINDBAD TO ZHENG HE

1. ‘World’s Second Oldest Mosque is in India’, Bahrain Tribune Daily, 7 July 2006.
2. Al-Hind: The Making of the Indo–Islamic World, vol. 1, André Wink. OUP, 1999.
3. Al-Hind: The Making of the Indo–Islamic World, vol. 1, André Wink. OUP, 1999.
4. The Great Arab Conquests, Hugh Kennedy. Da Capo Press, 2007.
5. Al-Hind: The Making of the Indo–Islamic World, vol. 1, André Wink. OUP, 1999.
6. Not all Mappilas are of Arab origin. It is a very diverse group that includes local converts as well as non-Arab Muslim sailors.
7. Means ‘Story of Sanjan’. Sanjan was the name of a town in Khorasan from where the refugees had come (it’s near Merv in modern Turkmenistan). The Parsis probably named their first settlement after their lost homeland.
8. http://articles.timesofindia.indiatimes.com/ 2008-01-21/patna/27750686_1_muharram-procession-hazrat-imamhussain-month-of-islamic-calendar
9. ‘A newly discovered founder population: the Roma/Gypsies’, Luba Kalaydjieva et al., Bio-Essays, Wiley, 2005.
10. There is some reason to believe that originally there were 64 shakti-peeths but I have stuck here to the current convention.
11. India: A History, John Keay, Harper Collins 2000.
12. Al-Hind: The Making of the Indo–Islamic World, vol. 1, André Wink. OUP, 1999.
13. As quoted in Ashoka, Charles Allen. Little, Brown, 2012.
14. The English translation by John Briggs is available as The History of the Rise of Mohammedan Power in India. Reprinted by Sang-e-Meel Publications, New Delhi, 1981.
15. Rambles and Recollections of an Indian Official, W.H. Sleeman, vol. II, Asian Education Services (reprinted 1995).
16. Gazeteer of the Delhi District 1883–84, Sang-e-Meel Publications, Lahore (reprinted 2000)
17. Delhi: A Thousand Years of Building, Lucy Peck. Roli-INTACH, 2005.
18. The Travels of Ibn-Batuta, (ed.) Tim Mackintosh-Smith. Picador, 2002.
19. India: A History, John Keay. HarperCollins, 2000.
20. One should not take this literally as meaning a thousand pillars—it merely denotes a very large number.
21. A History of India, vol. 2, Percival Spear. Penguin, 1990.
22. India: A History, John Keay. HarperCollins, 2000.
23. The Baburnama, (trans.) Wheeler Thackston, The Modern Library NY, 2002.
24. The Baburnama, (trans.) Wheeler Thackston, The Modern Library NY, 2002.
25. Note that the process of reconciliation with the Hindus had already begun with the Suris. The commander-in-chief of the Suri army was Hemu, a Hindu.
26. India: A History, John Keay. HarperCollins, 2000.
27. The Baburnama, (trans.) Wheeler Thackston, The Modern Library NY, 2002.
28. The Story of Asia’s Lions, Divyabhanusinh Chavda. Marg Publications, 2008.
29. The Story of Asia’s Lions.
30. The Story of Asia’s Lions.
31. The Story of Asia’s Lions.
32. The Story of Asia’s Lions.