TIPPOO’S TIGER

The Cheraman Juma Masjid at Kodungallur, Kerala, which has a claim to be the oldest mosque in India. This is the only surviving photograph of the mosque with its Keralan tiled roofs as it was in the 1950s before a more characteristically Islamic façade with twin minars was added.

With its pale green onion domes and its twin whitewashed *minar*s the little mosque of Cheraman Juma Masjid, on the road leading south out of Kodungallur, looks much like every other mosque in Kerala. But open a few doors and you’ll find
