

A Vaishnava Brahmin and his wife water the sacred tulsi plant in the courtyard of their home as part of their morning rituals. A goauche from the Boileau Album, probably drawn by an artist working in the Company style in Tanjore in about 1780.

So where is this sacred Saraswati River, since no such river appears on any modern map? And why should