BUSTING BUBBLES: On love, sex, ageism. And topping the body-beautiful conversation for 25 years

MALAIKA ARORA Actor, Model

BEYOND ALL NORMS

Don't tell Malaika Arora what she can or can't do. Yes, she can find love again after a divorce. Yes, her partner can be younger than her. At 49, she can spearhead a reality show and even do a stand-up act on it. And yes, she can be an entrepreneur.

At the India Today Conclave, Arora opened up on a range of issues, from dropping her husband's surname to co-parenting. Notably, even after decades in the industry and all its challenges, Arora maintains, "I'm still a work in progress."

As for the trolling and sexism thrown her way regularly, she has only this to say: "I have a very, very simple way of dealing with it. I ignore it." ■

In terms of insecurities, I think I live with insecurities every day of my life... But I have to keep my head above the water

I am lucky I could find love again and move on in life. If you are not OK with it, then so be it. I am not going to be apologetic about it
