

SHOTS IN THE ARM

India officially began its Covid-19 vaccination drive on January 16. Over a series of phases—frontline workers, the at-risk, the 45-60s and so on—a vaccine net was slowly extended across the country. At this time, 586 million Indians have been fully vaccinated (two doses), according to the MoHFW. People queueing to get vaccinated at a drive-through facility in Ahmedabad in May
