THE BALANCE BETWEEN PRIDE AND ANGER

THE CORE MISSION OF THE RSS, RE-ESTABLISHING THE CENTRALITY OF HINDU CULTURAL AND CIVILISATIONAL IDENTITY IN INDIA'S NATIONAL LIFE, HAS BECOME A REALITY. IN 2022, THE SANGH NEEDS TO CORRECT THE MISCONCEPTIONS ARISING OUT OF IT

On New Year's day, sarsanghchalak of the RSS (Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh) Mohan Bhagwat addressed a gathering of eminent citizens in Bengaluru. He was there not to talk about a Hindu Rashtra or Hindu-Muslim relations, but about paryavaran—the environment. Long considered an NGO domain, the RSS is now looking at it as an area of interest. A new wing, Paryavaran Gatividhi (climate activism), was added to the roster of the RSS recently.

And it's not just the environment, RSS-inspired activism can now be found in many other areas, including healthcare, education and social welfare. 'Saksham' is an NGO that works among the disabled, whom the RSS had christened 'Divyang' much before the government started using that term. During the crisis months of the Covid pandemic, the RSS quietly organised extensive training programs for over 100,000 village health volunteers across the country who were given ba-
