2014 Election Result: Some interesting aspects based on Election Commission of India (ECI) figures

- Out of the 282 seats that the BJP won, in 137 it secured more than half of the total votes polled; moreover, in 169 seats the party's vote share was greater than the vote shares of parties that finished second, third and fourth put together.
- 73 per cent or nearly three out of four BJP victories were by margins of over one lakh votes.
- BJP's success was mainly against the Congress as nearly three out of five BJP victories were against it.
- For the first time the BJP's national vote share was greater than that of the Congress. Even in the national elections held during the Vajpayee years, the Congress had been ahead of the BJP in terms of overall vote share.
- Punjab is the only state in the country where the BJP's vote share declined since the 2009 election. Among all the states, the BJP's highest vote share increase in percentage point terms was in Uttar Pradesh at +24.8.
- BJP and allies won 67 out of 70 seats where voter turnout went up by over 15 per cent since 2009.
- In six states, the BJP secured more than half of the total votes polled. These are Gujarat, Uttarakhand, Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh, Goa and Himachal Pradesh.
- In six states, the BJP won each and every seat on offer. These are Gujarat, Rajasthan, Delhi, Uttarakhand, Himachal Pradesh and Goa.
- One in three seats won by the BJP is from Uttar Pradesh and Bihar.
- The BJP won two-thirds of the highly urban seats (37/57) and more than half of the rural seats (178/342); Congress could win only two
