NARENDRA FIRODIA – CREATING A LEGACY OF COMPASSION AND SERVICE

To be truly successful and live a legendary life, one must balance all aspects of life and be of service to others. The service to others may be in any form that fits one's lifestyle. Contribution beyond yourself keeps your life in check, and helps build on your successes. Narendra Firodia is a live example for all to see and emulate.

> NARENDRA FIRODIA

Narendra Firodia and his wife Rinku are the 4th generation of the Firodia family of Ahmednagar. They are steadfastly marching on the path of principles established by their ancestors, providing aid to people, especially through education, medical, sports and cultural activities. Their family trust assists in improving healthcare infrastructure, education and the rehabilitation of abandoned women and children.

Narendra Firodia is the chip of the old block, advancing the vision of his illustrious family, expanding the scope of their efforts for the betterment of the people and society as a whole. He says, "I truly believe that money, power & knowledge are great assets if used with compassion".

The scion of the Firodia family, Narendra Firodia helms a plethora of businesses stretching across Telecom, Healthcare, Hospitality, Infotainment, Real Estate, Web Platforms/ Mobile Applications, Sports and many more.

More than that, it is Narendra's identity as a Social Entrepreneur that truly sets him apart. He is empowering the Real India by fuelling start-ups in the tier 2 and tier 3 cities. He inculcates the budding leaders of tomorrow to pursue their passion and help build India into a superpower.

Narendra founded "I LOVE NAGAR", India's first city centric application to empower the voice of the common people of Ahmednagar and ensure it reaches the right change makers. The application has evolved as a tool that empowers the people and encourages them to contribute towards the development of their beloved city. Amongst his other notable achievements are applications like LetsUpp, AdBanao & 10TT which represent his vision of a technology driven India, being forged in tier 2 & 3 cities.

Narendra believes that Corporate Social Responsibility is an integral part of the Firodia Family legacy. The principle of giving back to the society has run in the family and he is continuing the tradition through the Shantikumarji Firodia Memorial Foundation. His philanthropic work, providing quality education and good medical healthcare to the underprivileged, have earned the foundation and him a lot of accolades and recognition.

Narendra's Shantikumar Firodia Memorial Trust offers education and vocational training to the villagers, creating a sustainable income stream for them. It conducts regular training camps for destitute women. They build orphanages where education is prioritized to make the children grow up into self-reliant, responsible individuals. Since inception, the foundation has educated thousands of individuals, beginning with primary education and continuing their support through secondary education. During the Corona pandemic, the foundation did yeoman work to provide succor to every section of the cosiety, joining hands with other like minded groups and governmental organizations.

The foundation supports sportspersons with potential who are held back due to financial constraints. The Maximus Sports Academy, founded by Mr. Firodia, provides the best resources to the people of the city, to help them succeed in sports. In addition to training athletes in recognized Olympic sports, the academy has some of the best coaches for kids with dreams of making it big in the field of their choice. Shardul Gagare brought pride to the academy by becoming a Chess Grandmaster at the age of 18 - the 6th from Maharashtra and the 42nd from India.

As Narendra says, "What you leave behind is not what is engraved on stone monuments, but what is intricately woven into the lives of others. This eventually becomes the cornerstone of our DNA, our heritage, our pride". Spoken like a man, who lives his life the way it should be lived.
