Photograph by BANDEEP SINGH

PABIBEN RABARI, 38

Entrepreneur, Rabari tribe

Brought up in poverty in Gujarat's Kutch, Pabiben Rabari was a homemaker before she decided to concentrate on the intricate embroidery of her Rabari tribe. After she invented a new form of stitch work, Hari Jari, avenues opened up, and her brand, Pabiben, is now a fashion staple with exports to 45 countries. Her Banyan Tree Foundation employs 300 tribal women, with an annual turnover of Rs 40 lakh.

"VILLAGE WOMEN SHOULD GET OPPORTUNITIES TO EARN HANDSOMELY WITHOUT LEAVING THEIR HOMES"