ANDREA KEVICHUSA, 22

Actor, Angami, Ao tribes

Born in Nagaland to an Angami father and Ao mother, Andrea, the youngest of five sisters, wanted to become a doctor. But a modelling opportunity, when she was 15, changed the course of her life and took her to Mumbai, and landed her the female lead in the film Anek. Andrea believes the rest of India will soon better understand people from the Northeast, who face varying degrees of estrangement in the 'mainland'.
