

UNLEASHING POTENTIAL

GALGOTIAS UNIVERSITY'S PATHWAY TO EXCELLENCE

Galgotias University takes immense pride in its accomplished alumni, who have achieved remarkable success in their respective fields. Notably, Shubham Rawal, co-founder of StockPe, and Dr. Avantika Tomar, a partner at Ernst & Young's educational consulting division, exemplify the university's commitment to nurturing entrepreneurial and leadership skills among its students. Furthermore, Galgotias University's strong placement record in prestigious companies like Microsoft, Google, and Mercedes Benz underscores its dedication to producing exceptional graduates.

Embarking on an uncharted journey undoubtedly begins with a "genesis." To commence is to forge a novel path, to tread where no footsteps have before. The youthful intellect, brimming with rebellion, imagination, and boundless ingenuity, yearns to carve out a new way forward. In this context, universities emerge as vibrant hubs, propelling the spirit of entrepreneurship. Universities remain best equipped to provide a suitable environment that nurtures curiosity, encourages asking questions, and cultivates the ability to construct coherent arguments. By fuelling the enthusiasm of young minds, universities not only ignite innovation but also provide an abundance of essential resources to nurture the entrepreneurial spirit. Students gain access to invaluable resources, and robust support systems, and often receive funding, enabling them to transform their exceptional ideas into thriving enterprises.

THE POWER OF GALGOTIAS ALUMNI & START-UP CULTURE

StockPe co-founder Shubham Rawal, E&Y Partner Dr. Avantika Tomar and Aaj Tak Anchor Shubhankar Mishra have in common this very base that prompted them in becoming well known industry professionals and entrepreneurs.
