Preface to the First Edition

I am delighted to place before you a new book—Objective Indian and World Geography, meant for candidates of the civil services preliminary examination.

As you are aware, a radical change has been made by the UPSCin the course structure and pattern of the preliminary examination. The nomenclature of the preliminary test has been replaced by the Civil Services Aptitude Test (CSAT), which comprises of two papers (200 marks each), named General Studies Paper I and General Studies Paper II.

The feedback received from the successful candidates in the CSAT examination shows that General Studies Paper I continues to lay emphasis on subjects like Geography, Ecology, Environment, Indian Economy, Indian Polity, General Science and Current Affairs. It has also been observed that the weightage of the disciplines like Geography, Ecology, Biodiversity and Environment is substantial in Paper I.

This book is therefore a modest attempt to present a unique collection of high-quality objective-type questions on basic concepts of Geography and Applied Geography which includes emerging disciplines like Ecology, Biodiversity, Environment, etc. These questions would, hopefully, prove to be of immense assistance to aspirants preparing for the preliminary examination conducted by the Union Public Service Commission (UPSC).

The book has been divided into four parts:

Part A: Covers questions on Astronomy, Geomorphology, Oceanography, Economic Geography, World Geography and Human Geography
