13

Agriculture including Resource of India

DIFFICULTY LEVEL: EASY

1. _____ is one in which the farming areas consume all, or nearly so, of the products locally grown.
   (a) Subsidy agriculture
   (b) Forestry agriculture
   (c) Industrial agriculture
   (d) Subsistence agriculture
2. The basic resources for agriculture are _____, besides the seeds and animal breeds, and human endeavour.
   (a) tractor, soil and water
   (b) sunlight, trees and water
   (c) sunlight, soil and water
   (d) sunlight, soil and roads
3. India, situated in the monsoon belt of _____, is even now dependent to a large extent, on rains for its agriculture.
   (a) south-west Asia
   (b) south-north Asia
   (c) north-east Asia
   (d) south-east Asia
4. Who termed the dams are the Temples of Modern India?
   (a) Nehru
   (b) Patel
   (c) Gandhi
   (d) Indira