The merit of the candidates appearing in the Preliminary examinations is decided on the first paper that has a substantial number of questions from Geography. Late Prof Majid Husain, a renowned name in the world of Geography and especially popular amongst the candidates making Geography their optional shall be remembered for a long time for his commitment and valuable contribution. He wrote the books in a very simplified language and covered the latest of latest topics in Geography.

After his demise, the revision and updation of his writings would have come to a stop without the efforts of the team of McGraw-Hill.

The family of the author extend their thanks to Mohd. Rizwan Ahmed for agreeing to edit the book with the topics and revision of the objective questions as per the latest trends. Thanks are also due to all the friends and family members who encouraged in the revision of the book.

It is hoped that the revised edition shall be of immense help to all the aspirants of civil services and other competitive examinations as well. The book shall also be useful to those teaching and learning Geography.

May the almighty grant highest standards in heaven to the demised soul of the author.
