direction in Rajasthan, the river disappears in the Marshy lands of Rann of Kutch.

7. Siberian cold winds would have no barrier without Himalayas. Without himalayas, monsoon winds would not be deflected towards North India. Without himalayas, indo-gangetic plain would be devoid of such alluvial soils because these souls are deposited by Himalayan rivers.
8. The latitude that pass through Sikkim also pass through Rajasthan. 27° latitude passes through gangtok of Sikkim and alwar of Rajasthan.
9. Freash water comprises of ice caps-68%
   Ground water-30%
   Other sources-0. 9%
   Less than 1% of world's fresh water (0. 0007%) of all water on Earth is accessible for direct human consumption.
10. Beas flows through Mandi district of Himachal Pradesh. Chenab flows through Manali district. Ravi flows through chamba district. Sutlej flows through kalpa, bilaspur, etc. districts. Yamuna makes boundary between Himachal Pradeshand uttarakhand. It flows through mahan district and enters Himachal Pradesh in sirmur district.
11. Red soils have been developed over Archean granite, gnesis and other crystalline rocks,the sediments of the cuddapah and vindhyan basins and mixed Dharwarian group of rocks.

    Their colour is due to ferric oxides occuring as thin coating on the soil particles. While iron oxide occurs as haemetite the colour is red and when it occurs in the hydrate form as limonite, the soil gets yellow colour.
12. Around 98% of coal reserves of India are found in gondwana rock system. This significant coal seems to have been found in the rocks of lower gondwana age. The lower gondwana coalfields are present in the states of Andhra, Assam, odisha and westbengal. Although upper gondwana coals have been found in Gujarat, Madhya Pradesh and Maharashtra but in the field of production the lower gondwana fields are more important.
13. Mediterranean climate type is associated with all the above features. The climate is known for warm to hot in dry Summers