52. Edwin Bryant in his excellent volume, The Quest for the Origins of Vedic Culture: The Indo-Aryan Migration Debate (2001), sympathetically and impartially evaluates the central claim of Hindu chauvinists—that India is the homeland of Indo-European languages—without condescension and based on evidence. He concludes that though gaps exist in the Aryan migration theory, 'there has been almost no convincing evidence brought forward in support of a homeland this far east'.
