

AND ADVENTURE TOURISM

"The luxury segment crossed $1.28 trillion worldwide in 2022 and is likely to touch $2.32 trillion by 2030. Luxury is the main feature people are looking at"

SANJAY SHARMA
Founder, Eco Glamp, Kanatal

"The challenges here are that we are in high hills, in a very fragile zone. There is a lot of tourist influx, especially after the Covid-19 pandemic"

COL. ASHVINI PUNDIR
Additional CEO, Adventure, Uttarakhand Tourism

"Our vision is to have India ranked among the 10 best destinations globally for adventure tourism in the next 10 years"

AJEET BAJAJ
Managing Director, Snow Leopard Adventures

▼ THE BIG ISSUE: COST OF DEVELOPMENT

"The Himalayas are a fragile ecosystem. We had roads earlier too, but we are building much more today. We have to incorporate the science of environment into it"

ANIL PRAKASH JOSHI
Founder, Himalayan Environment Studies and Conservation Organisation

"We need to draw a lakshman rekha as far as carrying out work in the Himalayas is concerned. It is high time we categorised activities as prohibited, regulated and promoted"

HEMANT DHYANI
Convenor, Ganga Ahwan Movement; Member, CharDham Project

"We need development, but at what cost? If the people staying at these development sites are not safe, then for whom is this development?"

Prof. of Environmental Science, College of Forestry, Ranichauri
