INDIA@100

EDUCATION

THE UPSKILL TASK

India has made attempts to harness new tools for learning since the age of television. But now, the emergence of blended education and AI-powered models is all set to revolutionise the field. The focus should be on channelising the energies towards two goals at once: ensuring equitable access to foundational education, and creating a vaster knowledge reservoir around our traditional forte of Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics from that base

By KAUSHIK DEKA