UTTAR PRADESH LEADS IN POV

When Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath took over the reins of Uttar Pradesh in March 2017, the state was identified as a "BIMARU" state. The Chief Minister swiftly directed all departments to develop action plans for the effective implementation of welfare schemes aimed at uplifting the poor. Additionally, the government worked diligently to ensure that central government schemes reached their intended beneficiaries. As a result of these concerted efforts, the Yogi Adityanath government has achieved promising outcomes in its mission to eradicate poverty and elevate the income levels of the underprivileged.

According to the latest report of NITI Aayog "National Multidimensional Poverty Index: A Progress Review 2023", between 2015-16 and 2019-21, over 13.5 crore individuals have successfully emerged from multidimensional poverty across the country. Among the states, Uttar Pradesh stands out with the largest decline in the number of poor, as more than 3.43 crore people within the state have overcome multidimensional poverty during this period.

Providing multidimensional poverty estimates for 28 states, 8 union territories, and 707 administrative districts, the report said that the most remarkable reduction in the proportion of multidimensional poverty has been achieved in Uttar Pradesh. Following Uttar Pradesh are states such as Bihar, Madhya Pradesh, Odisha, and Rajasthan in terms of poverty reduction. According to the report, in Uttar Pradesh, 3,42,72,484 people have come out of poverty between 2015-16 and 2019-21. As a result, the proportion of people living in poverty in the state has decreased from 37.68% in 2015-16 to 22.93% in 2019-21.

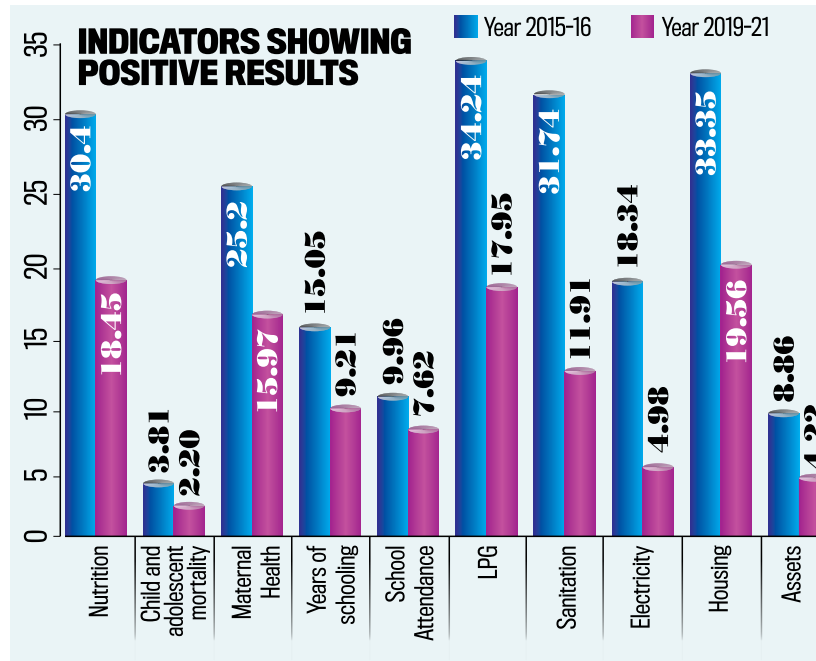

RURAL AREAS WITNESS UNPRECEDENTED IMPROVEMENT

The "National Multidimensional Poverty Index" released by NITI Aayog is based on a total of 12 parameters related to health, education, and standard of living. These parameters include nutrition, child and adolescent mortality,

"Despite being rich in resources, Uttar Pradesh remained a poor and BIMARU state due to the mismanagement and misrule of the previous non-BJP governments. The double-engine government of BJP has given a new identity to Uttar Pradesh with effective policies and good governance. Today, the world believes that UP is not a poor and BIMARU state, but a state where five and a half crore people have risen above the poverty line in six years (2017-2023)."

—Yogi Adityanath, Chief Minister, UP
