

Simultaneously, Haryana has ensured that those marginalized are empowered to enter the mainstream; services are delivered to the people at their doorsteps; and the citizens are incentivised and rewarded for paying their dues with schemes like 24-hour electricity supply in the rural areas.

"Haryana Ek - Haryanvi Ek is not just a slogan for me, it is my resolution and we are following it in all earnestness. After introducing systemic reforms, we have scripted and implemented policies and programmes to increase the income of the poor, bring those on the margins into the mainstream and ensure that the benefits of development percolate down to the last man standing in the true spirit of Antyodaya," says the Chief Minister.

A slew of schemes and programmes have been launched to realize the avowed objective of shoring up incomes of those at the lower pyramid by providing them job avenues in keeping with their tastes, abilities and faculties. Loans at low rates are provided to those keen on setting up own ventures. What makes these schemes stand out is that these do not offer freebies but reflect the spirit of giving people a helping hand to enable them to come up.

The Chief Minister strongly feels that freebies offer gains that do not last and that real help lies in elevating people economically so that they do not need freebies. "A self-respecting person never likes to take things for free. We have successfully pulled lakhs of people out of the vicious grip of poverty since 2014. This reality has been underscored by the Niti Aayog report. Besides increasing people's income, we have met their needs of education, health, food and housing. Farmers constitute the pivot of our attention", says the Chief Minister.

The number of initiatives taken by the present dispensation are aimed at improving the lives and the lot of people living in the State. The citizens of Haryana have got a new identity through the Parivar Pehchan Patra, and benefitted immensely through online transfer of benefits, Dial 112 and schemes like Mera Pani Meri Virasat, Bhavantar Bharpayee Yojana, Mhara Gaon-Jagmag Gaon and Mukhyamantri Antyodaya Parivar Utthan Yojana.

Such has been the impact of these transformative policies on the lives of the people that some States have also adopted them. Apart from this, in order to make the administration accountable and responsive, efficient and effective systems have been put in place to enable people to have a say in running their affairs and get their grievances redressed. "The purpose behind launching 'Jan Samvad', 'Nagar Darshan' and 'Gram Darshan' portals and 'CM Window' is to ensure that the voice of our citizens reaches us and we can address the issues that concern them," says the Chief Minister.

Haryana Gram Darshan Portal was launched to not only make all Government services available to the citizens through the websites of Gram Panchayats but also ensure efficiency, efficacy, transparency and reliability of the services rendered to them".

Complete data of gram panchayats of Haryana has been made available on this portal to provide all types of facilities to the people of the State. The