All this, of course, would not have been possible without my family, wife Priya and sister Pradnya, who never complained about my mental absence during such projects, and my daughters, Tanvi and Vaibhavi, who came up with ideas to add spice to the work.