EXEMPLARY GOVERNANCE EVIDENT IN THE SUCCESSFUL ORGANIZATION OF MOTO GP RACE

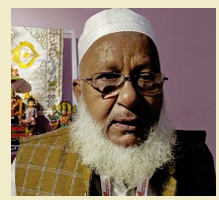

The excellent governance led by Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath in Uttar Pradesh has been gaining recognition both nationally and internationally, with the recent organization of "Moto GP Bharat" serving as a shining example. Thanks to the meticulous preparations guided by CM Yogi, encompassing guest hospitality, robust security measures, and seamless connectivity, over one lakh individuals from India and various corners of the world converged at the Buddha International Circuit in Greater Noida. From 22 to 24 September 2023, the Buddha International Circuit witnessed the exhilarating Moto GP, Moto 2, and Moto 3 races, featuring 82 riders representing 41 international teams who left Indian fans awe-struck with their astounding speed and skill. Over the course of these three days, more than one lakh spectators flocked to the circuit, including an impressive contingent of 10,000 to 15,000 foreign visitors. The sheer magnitude of this influx of visitors surpassed all expectations, underscoring the government's impeccable arrangements that facilitated travel for attendees hailing from diverse regions of the country. Furthermore, it achieved a remarkable feat by generating unprecedented economic activity, amounting to a staggering 106 million euros (equivalent to over Rs 9.33 billion) within just three days. This economic impact included a significant investment of Rs 50 crore in track development and infrastructure. Numerous sectors, including the hospitality industry, restaurants, transportation, and hospitality, reaped the benefits of this economic surge in Greater Noida.

The ripple effects of this event are poised to be far-reaching. In response to CM Yogi's appeal, several major brands are contemplating expanding their investments in Uttar Pradesh, with the resounding success of the Moto GP serving as a pivotal catalyst for these endeavors.

> "In the last six years, Uttar Pradesh has transformed from a BIMARU state to a prosperous state of the nation under the guidance and inspiration of Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi. The international trade show is an opportunity to showcase this prosperity."

APPRECIATION POURING IN FROM ALL DIRECTIONS

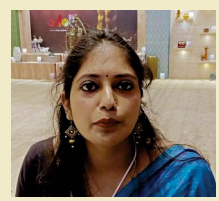

UNPRECEDENTED FACILITIES FOR THE FIRST TIME

Dilshad Hussain, a Padmashree-awarded craftsman from Moradabad, showcased his exquisite brass carvings at the trade show. He expressed his appreciation for the "International Trade Show," highlighting that it provided exhibitors from Uttar Pradesh with a unique opportunity to present their products to a global audience. With heartfelt gratitude to Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath, he emphasized that this event marked the first time exhibitors had access to such exceptional facilities, igniting a newfound enthusiasm among artisans.

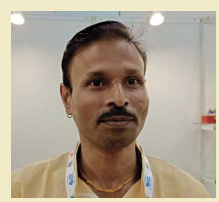

ELEVATING THE STATUS OF CRAFTSMEN AND ARTISTS

Shishram, a Meerut resident and a Padmashree Award recipient, characterized the trade show as an event that would elevate the stature of Uttar Pradesh. After dedicating 40 years to the Indian Army, Shishram has gained worldwide recognition for his exceptional contributions to portrait painting and sculpture. He emphasized that events like these not only enhance the prestige of artists and craftsmen but also elevate the standing of Uttar Pradesh and our nation on the global stage.

FINANCIAL WORRIES ALLEVIATED FOR WEAVERS

Varanasi resident Angika Kushwaha, a skilled craftsman renowned for crafting Banarasi sarees, showcased her expertise at the trade show with a 'dummy loom.' Angika, who oversees a team of one thousand people operating 300 looms, holds a Ph.D. in Textiles. She demonstrated the intricate art of Banarasi saree-making in front of international buyers. Angika highlighted that weavers are now benefiting from a range of government initiatives under Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath's leadership, alleviating concerns about loans and other financial matters.

EASIER ACCESS TO THE INTERNATIONAL MARKET

Tarun Kumar Singh, a national award-winning craftsman renowned for his work in the 'gulabi meenakari' industry, enthusiastically participated in the international trade show. Tarun proudly shared that he secured orders exceeding five lakh rupees during the event. He emphasized that this organized platform provided artisans with a unique opportunity to present their products to foreign businessmen for the first time, thereby establishing a fresh identity for Uttar Pradesh's products in the eyes of international traders. This newfound recognition is making it significantly more accessible for artisans to enter the global market.
