

JESMINA ZELIANG, an entrepreneur who founded Heirloom Naga, a textile and weaving centre in Dimapur, Nagaland, is a role model for aspiring women of the North East.

When Jesmina began her journey as an entrepreneur, she had neither business nor professional background, but she shaped her future by showcasing the wealth and richness of the Naga culture. She was quite skeptical of government schemes mostly because of the implementation challenges, but she was in for a pleasant surprise! Thanks to the support and guidance she received from the M/oMSME, her enterprise has become a one-stop destination for throbbing textiles and crafts activities.

Benefitted under NSSH in marketing the end products through several upmarket chains of stores and luxury stores in several countries.

When GHANASHYAM DEVANAND founded M/s. Altius Aerotech in 2018, he faced a lot of difficulty in getting access to the market of electronic warfare systems for the defence and space sector due to its secure and confidential nature of work. Thanks to vendor development meets organised by NSSH HAL, ISRO and other government organisations, he came to understand the procurement processes within the government organisations. He got to exhibit his products in the DEF-EXPO, 2020 in Lucknow, which gave a significant market exposure.

Currently, the firm is developing vital systems for the Indian Air Force and other defence organisations. It is constructing a 12,000 sqft manufacturing facility, with 2 Class 10,000 cleanrooms and state of the art machinery in the Hi-Tech Defence and Aerospace Zone, Devanahalli to increase its production and cater to the market opportunities provided by the M/o of MSME.

Benefitted from Special Credit Linked Capital Subsidy (SCLCS). Introduced under NSSH Scheme, it provided him with 25% capital subsidy to expand his business, generate employment and thus contribute to the economy.

DR SMITA NARAM was brought up in the family of four generations of vaidyas and learned this ancient healing and pulse reading from a Master who lived up to 124 years. The ancient healing method has a 2500-year-old lineage traceable to Vaidya Jeevak, the physician to Lord Buddha,.

Smith uses tools of Ayurveda in her practice– diet, lifestyle, kitchen formulas, detox, herbal formulas, and marma pressure points. She has created the 3R formula of healing: remove toxins & inflammation, restore & repair damaged organ, renew & rebuild the damaged system to create permanent relief. This has helped more than 1.5 million people so far. For this reason, she deeply felt the need to train doctors in this method and support them globally so that they can bring true health into people's lives. That is why she started a chain of Ayushakti Clinics.

Benefitted from many reimbursement interventions of NSSH scheme like reimbursement of bank guarantee fee, membership fee of export promotion councils etc.

CONCLUSION:

The M/oMSME has been contributing substantially towards policies and reforms for the MSME sector and is working tirelessly in coordination with State governments and local agencies – by strengthening the ecosystem for inclusive growth, leveraging resources, profitability and sustainability. It is working to realize the vision where products produced by MSMEs begin to cater to the day to day requirements of consumers, paving the way for this sector to substantially contribute to the growth of the nation.

The challenge ahead is to change the mindset of the youth who must realize that entrepreneurship is not only sustainable for the economy but is also a major means of self-employment. Undoubtedly, the MSME sector holds incredible potential to make the people realize their dreams of becoming their own masters.
