

TERRAIN TAMER

Mahindra has decided to equip the Scorpio-N with a modern 4x4 traction control system that it calls 4XPLOR. The 4WD system turns the new avatar of the vehicle into a go-anywhere SUV. Selection of the two 4WD modes can be done on the go but within certain operating parameters. Then there are various traction modes which one can select manually or the system can engage intelligently.

tumble feature on the second row for access to the third row of seats.

The Scorpio-N comes with petrol and diesel engines and both are the turbocharged all-aluminium powerplants that were newly developed for the XUV700 and both come mated to six-speed automatic and manual transmissions. The SUV handles much better than before, is extremely flickable, and offers a great ride if somewhat on the stiffer side, and comes into its own with a complement of four people on board.

Taking only the basics from the Scorpio, Mahindra has transformed a 20-year-old badge into a contemporary vehicle that is in sync with the times while offering excellent value for money across its wide model range. With an added emphasis on safety, convenience and connectivity features as well as equipment lists that compare with vehicles that are either much smaller or much more expensive, the Scorpio-N is sure to carve out a big niche for itself. The recently developed diesel and petrol powertrains offer automatic as well as 4x4 options and can fit every bill and need. ■
