Nitish embraces Tejashwi Yadav after the oath-taking ceremony at Raj Bhavan, Patna, Aug. 10

A 180° CHURN

Nitish rewrites the political script for Bihar—and perhaps beyond. The BJP, unable to read his googly, has to recalibrate its 2024 strategy

By Amitabh Srivastava and Anilesh Mahajan

Nitish Kumar is about to hold his Monday janata durbar, a weekly interaction in which he meets common people at his residence—1, Anne Marg, Patna—to tend to their grievances. From his composure, no one could have guessed the Bihar chief minister was nursing a grievance too—a terminal one. Just before the programme begins, a top state BJP minister arrives on the scene, and
