

1

RISHI SUNAK, 43
Prime Minister, United Kingdom

CROWNING GLORY

BECAUSE Britain's youngest PM in two centuries—and the first of Indian origin—had a calming influence on the financial markets and averted an economic meltdown after Liz Truss's huge tax cuts sparked panic, compounded by a cost of living crisis, soaring inflation and strikes by nurses, teachers, paramedics and others

BECAUSE in spite of the Conservatives doing badly in the council elections, Sunak has personally delivered—he unveiled a new Brexit deal with the European Union, finalised the Aukus defence pact, worked on energy security and took strict action on crime and policing

BECAUSE Under Sunak, Britain has been one of the staunchest supporters of Ukraine. He has visited Kiev once, and has hosted President Volodymyr Zelensky twice. It has pledged more sophisticated weapons than other countries, including air defence missiles, armed drones and cruise missiles for Ukraine to defend itself against Russian aggression

OFF-SIDE, ON-SIDE A football fan, Sunak once got into trouble for sneaking a portable television set into Winchester College to watch Euro 96. Cricket and movies are his other interests, as well as working out