THE CEILING BREAKER

BECAUSE the first woman, the first African-American and the first South Asian-American to be elected vice-president will be crucial as President Joe Biden seeks a second term. As running mate of the oldest president in history, Harris is leading the Democrats' charge on various issues. Harris is also important as a barrier-breaking idol for Black women voters. Experts see in her a future presidential candidate

STARTING EARLY Born to academic-activist parents, a 13-year-old Kamala held a demonstration in front of the apartment building where she lived, to protest the fact that children were not allowed to play on the front lawn. The policy was changed

BECAUSE Harris embraced the role of the administration's defender of reproductive rights after the US Supreme Court overturned the Roe vs Wade judgment that legalised abortion. She has toured the nation, advocating women's right to choose, deploring 'extremists' who support the ban

BECAUSE Harris is a key actor in delineating US foreign policy abroad, with the Biden administration seeking to undo Trump's abrasive 'America First' dictum. She helped passage of a $2 billion Covid stimulus bill, is involved in shaping policy on healthcare, education and immigration

2 → KAMALA HARRIS, 58

VICE PRESIDENT, UNITED STATES

Illustration by NILANJAN DAS (AI)