CHAIRMAN & MD, ITC LTD

FAST MOVER ADVANTAGE

BECAUSE he leads India's largest FMCG conglomerate and is taking on MNCs such as Hindustan Unilever, Nestle and PepsiCo in various segments, especially food. With revenues of more than Rs 16,000 crore, the group's food division is competing against Nestle for the top slot in India

BECAUSE he is reducing the group's dependence on its cash cow—the cigarettes business—helping pump investments into other key businesses such as foods, personal care, paper and stationery, and hospitality. Cigarettes still contribute 46 per cent to the company's top line, but in the next decade, the conglomerate will be focusing on building its agriculture and food business. This includes staples, biscuits, frozen foods and organic purees along with the recently added dairy and chocolate brands

BECAUSE the self-effacing MD offers a positive story of farmer-corporate cooperation, at a time when the farmers in north India are agitating. From e-Choupal, assisting improvement in productivity for farmers and encouraging better farming practices, ITC is doing it all. And in some cases, these interventions are already leading to an overall higher income of up to 50 per cent for the farmers
