MONIKA SHERGILL, 49

VICE PRESIDENT, CONTENT, NETFLIX INDIA

Queen of Content

BECAUSE she is leading Netflix's fastest growing market globally. A revised content strategy saw Netflix India enjoy its best year with a 30 per cent y-o-y growth in total view hours, 25 per cent rise in revenue and the highest paid net additions for any country

BECAUSE under her leadership, Netflix was the common link in India's two Oscar wins: it produced the short documentary The Elephant Whisperers that became the first Indian production to win an Oscar, and helped expand the fandom of Rajamouli's RRR

FIRST CALLING An investigative journalist is what Shergill was in her first avatar. Her work on ecological issues saw her scouring all sorts of landscapes: mines, forests, acid factories. All that went into the Green Oscar-winning series Living on the Edge

STREAMING GIANTS

BECAUSE under their leadership, Amazon Prime Video has scaled up its content slate. It has over 100 original series and movies in development in multiple languages, making India the platform's second largest programming hub after the US

BECAUSE they have taken Indian stories to the global stage. Today, every fourth viewer of Prime Video's Indian titles comes from outside India; the series Farzi was streamed in more than 170 countries in the launch weekend itself

IN SYNC "Aparna brings incredible passion to storytelling, backing the creators to the hilt, and I bring the customer-backward view of how each show or movie can further delight them. When these two sync, it's magic," says Sreeram

BECAUSE by showcasing series headlined by women (Hush Hush, Dahaad et al) and having women as the heads of departments and in writers' rooms, they are encouraging fairer female representation
