

Illustration by MANJUL

43

MAHENDRA MOHAN GUPTA, 84

CHAIRMAN & MD, JAGRAN PRAKASHAN LTD

SANJAY GUPTA, 60

WHOLE-TIME DIRECTOR & EDITOR-IN-CHIEF, JAGRAN PRAKASHAN LTD

The Nabobs of News

BECAUSE they are the owners of Dainik Jagran, the largest-selling daily in India with a readership of 68.7 million. The newspaper has presence in almost half of India's 543 parliamentary constituencies. It also claims to be the world's largest daily newspaper and was ranked first in India in terms of circulation in 2022 (January-June). The combined readership of the group's nine print titles—eight newspapers and a magazine—is a whopping 81.3 million. And

Edtech Stars

44

BYJU RAVEENDRAN, 43

CO-FOUNDER & CEO, BYJU'S

DIVYA GOKULNATH, 36

CO-FOUNDER & DIRECTOR, BYJU'S

BECAUSE BYJU'S is a decacorn in the ed-tech space and, with a headcount of 55,000, one of the biggest employers among Indian start-ups. Its learning programmes reach 150 million students globally, along with 7 million annual paid subscriptions. Over the years, BYJU'S has brought in Rs 28,000 crore of foreign direct investment (FDI)

BECAUSE Over the last two years, its social initiative Education for All (EFA) has supported 5.5 million children in India. Half of them are girls. For every paying student, BYJU'S has one child learning for free. Soccer superstar Lionel Messi is the global brand ambassador of EFA

BECAUSE BYJU'S is rapidly expanding its offline footprint. It currently has 250 Tuition Centres and plans to scale up soon. The company is also eyeing an IPO for Aakash Educational Services, the coaching institute it acquired in 2021

ROUGH WEATHER BYJU'S got embroiled in a series of controversies last year over layoffs and foreign funding. However, Raveendran says all transactions were compliant and that the firm's FDI surpasses that of any other Indian startup

