HIS OTHER HITS, AND MISSES

Sukash approached other Bollywood actresses too, with offer to gift cars. Not everyone could be lured

MANDAR DEODHAR

NORA FATEHI

According to the ED chargesheet, in the last week of December 2020, Sukash bought a BMW car in the name of Mehboob Khan (Bobby Khan), the husband of actress Nora Fatehi's cousin, for Rs 64 lakh. Sukash had initially offered to gift the car to Nora, but she asked him to talk to Mehboob. Earlier that month, Nora had attended a charity event organised by Sukash's wife's company Nail Artistry in Chennai. Nora claims the event was professionally organised by her agent and she did not personally know Sukash or his wife.

JANHVI KAPOOR

Sukash's wife Leena invited Janhvi to inaugurate her salon, Nail Artistry, in Bengaluru on July 19, 2021. Unaware of their background, she did it in lieu of Rs 18.94 lakh as professional fees. Janhvi told the ED that on that day, she was also gifted a Christian Dior tote bag by Leena's mother.

MILIND SHELTE

BANDEEP SINGH

BHUMI PEDNEKAR

Sukash had approached Bhumi Pednekar by phone in January 2021, posing as a billionaire businessman and offered to gift her a car. But the actress declined the offer.

SARA ALI KHAN

The ED reports that Sukash approached her through WhatsApp in May 2021 and offered to send her gifts, including a car. After declining multiple times, she finally agreed to receive a box of chocolates from him. Later, Sukash sent her a Franck Muller watch along with the chocolates.

THE FIRST BIG CAPER

Sukash and Leena executed their first big con in 2013—siphoning Rs 12 crore from Canara Bank in Chennai. Sukash had contacted business couple M. Balasubramanian and Chitra, who ran a sanitary napkin-vending machine firm called Future Techniks, asking them to get in touch with one Jayakumar, a senior IAS officer in Karnataka, who would award them a contract for 30,000 such machines as part of the government's free napkin scheme. When they called on the landline number given to them (located, incidentally, near the Vidhan Soudha), the officer's secretary—none other than Leena herself, presumably—picked up the phone and confirmed that it was indeed the Karnataka secretariat. Sukash, impersonating an IAS officer, told Balasubramanian that he would be awarded an order worth Rs 132 crore, but only after he had raised Rs 19 crore to give them. Guided by the fake Jayakumar, the entrepreneur, who had an account with the Ambattur branch of Canara Bank, approached chief manager V. Jagadeesha for a loan of Rs 19 crore.

When Jagadeesha expressed his inability to sanction such a huge loan, Sukash, posing again as Jayakumar, called the bank manager and even sent government documents to convince him that the couple would indeed land a huge government contract. The loan was finally sanctioned, and the couple transferred the amount to the different bank accounts Sukash had opened. By the time the top officials of the bank