Jim Corbett National Park, Uttarakhand

With over 580 recorded species, Corbett is treasured for its rich birdlife and vast diversity of habitats from forests to riverine grasslands. There are many well-known trails, including the Dhikala grasslands and the Ramganga riverbed. Target species include the rare Ibisbill, Himalayan Rubythroat and Wallcreeper.

Flight Path

The top 10 Indian birding destinations to swoop in on this winter

By Bijoy Venugopal

Photographs by SHUTTERSTOCK

An Indian Roller at the Jim Corbett National Park