On the edge of the Vindhyachal mountain ranges, barely 40 km from the city of Bhopal, on the fringes of the Ratapani Wildlife Sanctuary, lies RJL, a beautiful and quaint Jungle & Wildlife Safari Lodge.

An offbeat location, tucked away deep in the jungles adjacent to the Ratapani Wildlife Sanctuary, spread over the edge of a cliff, overlooking the Kolar Reservoir and the beautiful Ratapani Julgles in the valley below, RJL is truly a hidden Gem, yet untouched by the maddening crowd of tourists.

As one drives up to the Lodge, through the dense woods, the road sheltered under the thick canopy of Teak Trees, one can't help but be awestruck by the sheer beauty of the pristine forest, with the drive up to the Lodge imparting a semblance, no less than a safari. The lodge itself presents a welcoming warmth, blending into the surrounding greens, offering 33 luxurious & well appointed accommodations in different categories.

Gol-Ghar and Periwinkle are the central dining areas. Barn Owl, the live counter, at the upper deck, remains available to serve the guests throughout the day. The upper deck, overlooking the hill and the reservoir below, offering a breathtakingly scintillating view of the sunset in the evenings, is the place which draws out all the guests of the property during the sunrise and the sunset. And all this while, in front of remains the endless expanse of the majestic Kolar reservoir and the enchanting Ratapani jungles, dotting the banks and the small hillocks, as far as the eye can see.

Emphasis has been placed on creating a lot of outdoor spaces, so that the guests of the property can make the most of the beautiful outdoors, which is actually what the property is all about. As the one walks about the premises, one can't help but gasp at the beautiful sight offered by pristine teak forest and the beautifully created plantation, exuding an aura of a rainforest, amidst the dense teak woods.

At the southwest corner of the property is a pool, perched in a way that offers a beautiful view of the forest and also remains sheltered under the foliage, ensuring that one can enjoy lounging about even during the afternoons

Beautiful stairways, winding their way down the hillside, through the lovely tree canopy, take you to the lower decks and the boat club, offering a variety of boat rides and water safaris. A waterfront property, RJL has maintains its own boat club, at the property itself, which is in fact the largest private setup in the area, serving the guests of the property and the visitors alike and remains operational from sunrise to sunset. The guests can enjoy mesmerising water safaris, in the backwaters of the Kolar reservoir.

RJL also offers its guests wilderness safaris, with its own fleet of dedicated vehicles available at all times, with morning and evening jungle drives & wildlife safaris through the Ratepani Wildlife Sanctuary, which is just a few kms from the property. Ratapani Wildlife Sanctuary, now a deemed Tiger Reserve, boasted a latest tiger count of over 95 big cats in its landscape and is an absolute paradise for birders, with over 250 species of birds and as many varieties of butterflies, calling the sanctuary their home. Trekking enthusiasts find a lot in the offering with beautiful jungle and riverside trails, as do the adventure & thrill seekers, with rappelling sites in the area, operated by the MP Eco Tourism Board.

Between the months of late October till the end of March, the reservoir is home to a myriad of migratory water birds. The reservoir also draws the animals, being a prominent watering-hole. The soft green grass along the reservoir and the damp soil creates an ideal feeding ground for the herbivores, thereby often attracting the carnivores looking for an easy prey. An early morning or evening walk along the reservoir can pleasantly surprise you at times with the wildlife you may come across.

In addition to the above, the proximity to the Salkanpur Temple, the Saru Maru Caves & Stupas, the Ginnorgarh Fort, Italian WW-II PoW Camp, Kathotiya Pre-Historic Rock Shelters, the Sanchi Stupa, UNESCO World Heritage Site of Bheem Baithika, the historic Bhojpur Temple, etc all draw the tourists from far & wide, packing the itinerary for two to three days for the visitors.

Reaching RJL: RJL is easily accessible from Bhopal Airport and Train Station / or ISBT, with regular Cab services. It is about 180 km from Indore and is connected by good all weather roads.
