

"Social media gives the power to enhance the business of someone who really needs it. I once met a women's SHG that had opened a vegetable shop. Featuring them helped their business"

ADARSH MISHRA, Food blogger at Raipur Foodie Love

"There is a lot of pressure on those on Instagram to chase numbers in terms of followers. Sometimes, you hit a wall.... I think consistency is very important"

AKASH GUPTA, Co-founder, Humans of Chhattisgarh

"If one is thinking of making it big on any social media platform, one should not focus on numbers. It is most important to think of good content"

GYANENDRA SHUKLA, Co-founder, Being Chhattisgarhia

"The residents of Tulsi village are very cooperative and helped make our channel a success. When we started out, Gyandendra and I were playing all parts, but slowly, the villagers joined us too"

JAI VERMA, Co-founder, Being Chhattisgarhia

"I don't post anything about my work on social media, but others present at press conferences do. I believe the positive work of the police needs to be put on social media as it can change the perception of the police among the public"

DR ABHISHEK PALLAVA, IPS, Superintendent of Police, Kabirdham
