"I allot a certain time of the day to crying. I don't believe in fake positivity. It is okay to take some time off"

KUSHA KAPILA, Actress

"From the first day I walked on to the set, to this day, the women who are part of the movie, we are each other's driving forces"

SHIBANI BEDI, Actress

"Honestly, I always found women in my life so funny. They are hilarious. When a woman decides to land a joke, she can land it"

RHEA KAPOOR
Producer

"Thank You for Coming was written by two women, Radhika Anand and Prashasti. And you see that reflect [in the film]. You can see it's every woman's story"

DOLLY SINGH, Actress

"As a child, I was into Kathak. It was not acceptable where I lived. However, for me, it was just a dance form. My teacher once taught me Kathak. I liked it and started learning on my own. People don't make fun of me anymore"

SHIVANSHU SONI
Contestant on
India's Best Dancer

