fortunes, but also that of their native Kishangarh, making it the marble city of India, its stone eclipsing the more famous cousin from Makrana.

Over time, the group moved from manufacturing marble to becoming sole importers. Today, they produce two-thirds of the white marble in Vietnam and export it to 75 countries. Suresh's sons—Vikas, 42, and Vinay, 37—handle the RK Marble segment.

Having established their supremacy in the marble business, the group has diversified into other areas. Vineet, son of eldest brother Ashok and chairman of the RK Group, launched Ninety Degree Stone in 2012, which deals with exotic stones, surface finishes and lightweight slabs.

Where they invest profits
"In quality," says Vimal

He also launched Boddess last year, a platform offering 200 different cosmetic brands. The children of youngest sibling Vinay—Vivek, 30, and Rishabh, 27—oversee the group's cement business that was launched in 2012. Wonder Cement is now the group's fastest-growing product, accounting for the biggest share in the company's turnover. The group still leases marble mines in India, but leaves most of the raw production to others.

The group's latest venture, Wonder Home Finances, has in four years totted up a loan book of Rs 633 crore through 60 branches and 7,648 customers with an average loan size of Rs 9.5 lakh. "We give loans to those who cannot get it from anywhere," says Ashok Patni. In November, their Rs 200 crore plant to produce putty will start operating in Nimbahera, also the site of their cement plant, where annual production has risen from 3.5 million tonnes to 18 million tonnes in 10 years.

Though different members of the family handle different divisions of the group, all decisions are taken in consultation and through consensus. Ashok has been the group's public face, Suresh handles sales and Vimal mining and now cement production.
