INDIA TODAY CONCLAVE MUMBAI

BANDEEP SINGH

▲ IN FOCUS

"My father and I trusted them [the rebels] blindly. We thought of them as our people... We thought politics is not an extremely dirty place... I take the blame for not playing dirty politics like them"

AADITYA THACKERAY
President, Yuva Sena

▼ FORESIGHT

MANDAR DEODHAR

"The problem is that all democracy rankings are based on surveys. So, all have the same methodology. They survey intellectuals, journalists, and academics based in the country they are studying or students in the country from outside. Fundamentally, the biases don't creep in because the survey organisations are anti-India. They creep in because, and forgive me, India's intellectual class is anti-India; as a class and not as individuals"

SALVATORE BABONES
Sociologist and Associate Professor, University of Sydney

CHANDRADEEP KUMAR

▲ HOT TOPIC: ECONOMY

"I expect inflation to remain elevated for some time, in the 6-7 per cent range. Commodity prices are expected to spike"

MAHESH VYAS
Managing Director and CEO, Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy Pvt Ltd

▼ HOT BUTTON: POLITICS

"Everyone in Tamil Nadu knows that the concept of the Dravidian movement has lost its charm"

K. ANNAMALAI
State President, Tamil Nadu BJP

"The Congress party is an endangered species in the nation today and is on its way to extinction"

TEJASVI SURYA
MP and President, BJP Yuva Morcha
