(Hons) Philosophy. College principal Anju Srivastava says, "The Bachelor of Arts programme is offered in a variety of subject combinations. It's especially sought-after because, in its very design, it provides detailed knowledge of more than one subject, which helps aspirants for later competitive exams such as the UPSC."

Even the add-on courses are very much in demand because of the academic as well as extra-curricular exposure they provide to the students. In the last year, the college offered a number of add-on certificate courses in addition to the standard course curricula that are followed. These included courses on Fragrances and Flavours, Vedic Mathematics, Legal Studies and Behavioural Economics. Srivastava adds, "These courses ensure that our students receive an all-rounded and holistic education, which is not confined to the set syllabi and classrooms."

The college also ensures that students are provided with exposure and experience of the most innovative kind and newly-emerging trends possible in various disciplines. In academic courses that belong to the art streams, students are taught the latest methodological trends in research, and the college regularly organises seminars, conferences and lectures to ensure that students and faculty are up to date with the latest advances in knowledge.
