training programmes and internships, and field trips and visits for research purposes. The college also runs various research projects funded by central agencies such as the DST (department of science & technology), DBT (department of biotechnology), DRDO (Defence Research and Development Organisation), ICSSR (Indian Council of Social Science Research) and Ignite INC, US, in the area of wastewater remediation and other major environment-related concerns.

Hindu also launched the IONUVA Innovation start-up under the National Innovation and Startup Policy of the Union education ministry and tied up for research collaboration with TRI, a start-up focusing on research and experimental development in natural sciences and engineering. The college has a strong collaboration with perfumery company Ultra International Ltd—which has resulted in the establishment of a 'Fragrances and Perfumery Lab'—and with consumer goods giant Reckitt Benckiser Ltd.

Highlighting another initiative, Srivastava says, "Remedial classes are also conducted to identify potential learning gaps that could be hindering the student's progress in the general education classroom. This has helped them get a better grip on the curriculum." Personalised counselling is also provided to students by the college counsellor and they are constantly mentored by their teachers.

A full-fledged research centre equipped with state-of-the-art instruments has been set up at the college, a first-of-its-kind in Delhi University. The past year also witnessed high-impact and much-cited papers by faculty members in reputed international journals, with the highest impact factor (the yearly mean number of citations of articles) being 60.2. ■
