CHHATTISGARH: REVOLUTIONARY CHANGE IN EDUCATION SECTOR

In the era of globalization, digital connectivity in the whole world has put forward new challenges regarding the educational system of the country. The old educational system seems to be tied in the barrier of languages, in such a situation it is necessary to develop a global education system. Different states are making efforts in this regard at their own level, but a revolutionary change is going on in Chhattisgarh regarding the education system. Here now government schools and colleges are seen equipped with world class facilities. The result of positive changes in the education system is also being reflected in the personality of the students and their ability to learn and understand. Now a different confidence is visible on the faces of the students here.

SWAMI ATMANAND SCHOOLS BROUGHT A NEW ERA OF EDUCATION

Efforts have been made on a wide scale to improve the level of school education in Chhattisgarh. It was the intention of Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel that children of all classes should get equal school education. On the basis of this thinking, a new chain of Swami Atmanand Excellent Schools has been established in Chhattisgarh. The school is equipped with state-of-the-art educational facilities which are not less than any big private school. In these schools, children from economically weaker families are being given priority in admission. Education here is completely free. With state-of-the-art computer labs, science laboratories, well-equipped classrooms and academic campus, as well as activities related to sports and other fine arts, here is the best environment for education. Under this series, a total of 727 excellent schools are being run in the entire state today. Of these, 377 English medium schools and 350 Hindi medium schools are operated. A provision of Rs 870 crore was made in the budget this year for these schools funded by the state government. In this way, by making a huge investment in the field of education, the state government is engaged in rapidly improving its level. Recruitment is also being done on a war footing so that there is no shortage of subject specialist teachers in these schools. 10000 teachers were recruited during the current academic session. Apart from this, at present the process of recruitment of about 12000 posts is going on.

33 NEW COLLEGES FOR HIGHER EDUCATION

Along with school education in Chhattisgarh, rapid efforts are being made for quality development in higher education as well. There are already many world class educational institutions in the capital Raipur, apart from these, 33 new colleges have been established during the last 4 years in the entire state. These include one Arts and Music College, 3 new Medical Colleges, 10 Women's Colleges and 10 Swami Atmanand Excellent Colleges.
