A PERFECT SET

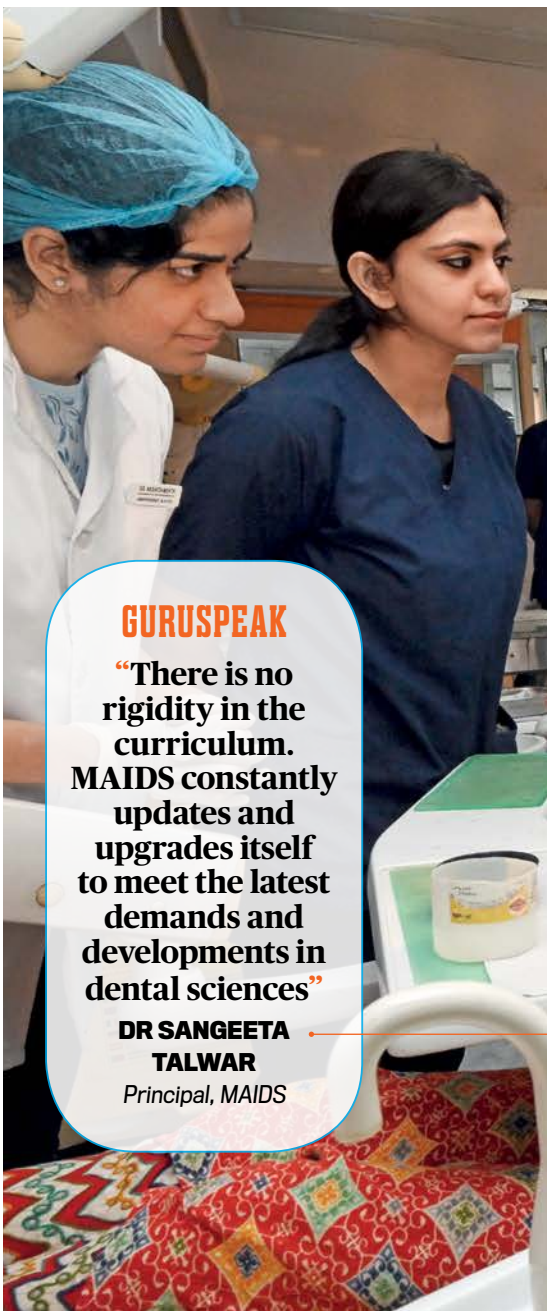

CUTTING-EDGE FACILITIES, A PRACTICAL APPROACH TO DENTISTRY AND INNOVATIONS IN DENTAL TECH MAKE THE MAULANA AZAD INSTITUTE OF DENTAL SCIENCES UNBEATABLE

BY SONALI ACHARJEE

For Sabhya Sharma, a third-year student of the Bachelor of Dental Surgery (BDS) programme at the Maulana Azad Institute of Dental Sciences (MAIDS) in New Delhi, the confidence in his skills is a result of his experience on the campus. Last year, the institute treated a whopping 400,000 patients. "We start seeing patients from the third year itself after formal training. That is helpful, as by the time you graduate, you have hands-on training. I also like the structured approach to learning—we have a mandatory one-year internship in the college itself and, from the third year, we are posted in each and every department, so you learn many skill-sets before deciding which one really appeals to you," says Sharma. Alumni, too,
